“ The only memory I have of my father-in-law is when standing in line at walmart in winchester. My daughter his grand daughter was 3 or 4 months old. I stopped at the end of line where dave and shirley were. And they walked up slowed down looked at cathy and looked at me and walked off. NEVER even touched their grand daughter. I also have a son. Which they werent listed in the obituary. Thanks shirley and the rest of your family for never knowing them. You missed out on 2 wonderful grand children. For 15 yrs I tried to contact you even stopped at your house. But I guess we werent family and you wanted nothing to do with us. Thanks.

“ Please accept my sincere condolences on the death of Dave. The void his death has left will never be filled. However, we can be comforted that in the Bible at Job 14:14-15, Job asked about the resurrection, God answered and said that He would be eager to call out to the dead and they would answer. Those words are very comforting at this difficult time as it gives the reassurance that our dead loved once will live again. God's promise of Paradise, when the dead will rise, our loving Creator would have removed tears, pain and even death. All these promises will be made possible through Jesus' death. (Luke 23:43) (Isaiah 25:8). I have derived much comfort from these scriptures. I hope you will find time to read and meditate on them and feel God's love for us.
